Abstract

This scholarly investigation explores the intricate relationship between the celestial convergence of Mars and Ketu, aiming to elucidate its enigmatic connection with significant historical cataclysms. Through meticulous analysis of various historical events, including the desecration of revered sanctuaries such as the Somnath Temple, Kashi Vishwanath Temple, Surya Marthanda Temple, Sri Krishna Janmabhoomi Temple, and the sacred precincts of Hampi, a discernible pattern emerges: a looming escalation of risk coinciding with the alignment of Mars and Ketu, known as Pishacha Yoga.

Prominent among these events are the tragic occurrences of September 11th, 2001 (9/11), which witnessed the devastating destruction of the World Trade Centre in New York City, and the brazen assault on Israel in 2023, alongside pivotal historical events like World War I, the ascent of Adolf Hitler in Germany, and World War II, all occurring during the conjunction of Mars and Ketu. These incidents serve as poignant reminders of the profound influence of astrological configurations on human affairs, underscoring the potent role of cosmic forces in precipitating monumental disasters. Conversely, within the annals of history lies the Mumbai 26/11 incident, a harrowing siege that plunged the city into terror. Remarkably, this tragedy unfolded without the alignment of Mars and Ketu, offering a sobering reminder of the potential mitigating influence of celestial configurations on the fabric of destiny.

Drawing upon these revelations, this study presents a compelling argument for the astrological significance of the Mars-Ketu conjunction, also known as Pishacha Yoga, in the context of the destruction of Prabhu Shri Ram's temple in Ayodhya in 1528.

Introduction

According to the Government of Gujarat<sup>[1]</sup>, Somnath's first temple is said to have existed 2000 years ago. In 649 AD, King Maitre of Vallabhini built a second temple in place of the temple and renovated it. In 725, the old ruler of Sindh took his army and attacked the temple and destroyed the temple. Pratishtha King Nag Bhatt II constructed the temple for the third time in 815 using a red stone (sandstone) stone. In 1026, Mahmud Ghazni looted the precious jewels and property of Somnath temple. After looting, slaughtering innumerable pilgrims of the temple and burning the temple and destroying it. During 1026-1042 Solanki Raja Bhimdev built the fourth temple of Bhoj and Anhilwad Patan, Parmar King of Malwa. Somnath was destroyed when Delhi Sultanate occupied Gujarat in 1299. In 1394 it was destroyed again. In 1706, Mughal ruler Aurangzeb again demolished the temple.

According to India-Knowledge<sup>[2]</sup>, In 1034, Varanasi faced its inaugural assault, orchestrated by Ahmad Niyaltigin, a notable general serving in Mahmud Ghazni's army. Nearly two centuries later, in 1194, the city witnessed a devastating blow as Qutb ud-Din Aibak razed over 300 temples, including the revered Kashi Vishweshwar temple. For nearly half a century, these sacred grounds lay barren until Razia Sultana, reigning from 1236 to 1240, erected a mosque upon the desolate remnants of the Vishwanath temple. The year 1447 marked another sorrowful chapter as Mahmud Shah Sharqi inflicted partial ruin upon the reconstructed Kashi Vishweshwar temple, along with numerous others in Varanasi.

Sikandar Lodi's invasion in 1494 further decimated the city's temples, obliterating what remained of the Kashi Vishweshwar temple. In 1585, a new Kashi Vishweshwar temple emerged, constructed south of its ancient predecessor, under the patronage of Narayan Bhatta, with support from Raja Todarmal's son Govardhan and the Maharaja of Amber. Under the reign of Shah Jahan from 1627 to 1658, approximately 76 temples faced partial or complete demolition, though the principal Kashi Vishwanath temple was spared. However, Aurangzeb's decree in 1669 marked a tragic epoch, as the Kashi Vishwanath temple fell to ruin, supplanted by the Gyanvapi Masjid.

Through successive epochs of destruction and revival, the temple endured, rebuilt by Ahilyabai Holkar in 1777. Maharaja Ranjit Singh's magnanimous gesture in 1859, donating gold to adorn its domes, added to its splendour.

As per Sabira Ulfath<sup>[3]</sup>, The strongest and most powerful emperor of the Karkota dynasty of Kashmir region was Emperor Lalitaditya Muktapida (724–760 AD). Lalitaditya was born in the year of 699 AD as the third son of Durlabhak-Pratapaditya of Kashmir. Lalitaditya Muktapida is a person worth studying because of his military prowess as well as his interests in art and religion. He was equally respectful of Buddhism, and is recognised with promoting its art and architecture as well as with erecting Buddhist shrines and sculptures. In the Kashmir valley, Lalitaditya built numerous cities and shrines. His most stunning masterpiece is the Martand Sun Temple. The Martand Sun Temple was completely demolished, according to legend, in the early 15th century under the direction of Muslim monarch Sikandar Shah Miri, also known as the idol breaker. It was done as part of his campaign to convert Valley Hindus to Islam, which he largely succeeded in achieving through widespread persecution of Hindus, the destruction of Hindu-Buddhist cultural icons, and the instillation of terror in Valley Hindus and Buddhists. Additionally, he had demolished numerous Buddhist temples and works of art. Both Jonaraja and Hasan Ali claimed that Sikandar Shah Miri destroyed the temple on the advice of Sufi preacher Mir Muhammad Hamadani.

According to the Global Heritage Fund<sup>[4]</sup>, the temples and palaces of Hampi, constructed between the 14th and 16th centuries, are renowned for their exquisite carvings and intricate decorations. Despite their allure, the remote location of the ruins and the challenging journey dissuade some visitors. However, Hampi's historical significance transcends its present state. Once the flourishing capital of the Vijayanagar Empire, Hampi rivalled cities like Beijing in size and grandeur during its zenith. Socially diverse and religiously tolerant, the Vijayanagar empire's seat was a metropolitan hub that attracted travellers from around the world. Wealthy merchants traded at the bazaar, which buzzed constantly with economic and social life. The wealth of Hampi attracted large crowds and a vibrant society, but it also brought the unwanted attention of greedy enemies. As a result, Hampi was also a city constantly under threat. After repelling centuries of attacks, Hampi finally fell under a combined onslaught of five medieval dynasties, which won a decisive battle in 1565 CE. Defeat was brutal. For six months, the victors massacred local residents and looted everything of value. Buildings and artifacts too large to steal were smashed with crowbars, destroyed with axes, and burnt in massive fires. Any remaining pieces of these once-stunning buildings were scattered to the winds. Every structure — each intricate and beautiful palace, temple, and statue — was destroyed.

From a teeming centre of culture and economic activity, Hampi became a razed shell of its former self.

As per Arjun Sengupta<sup>[5]</sup>, News9Live<sup>[6]</sup>, and News18<sup>[7]</sup>, Shri Krishna Janmasthan Temple or Shri Krishna Janmabhoomi Temple is centred on the prison cell where Lord Krishna's maternal uncle Kansa imprisoned his parents, Devaki and Vasudeva. The holy ambience and purity of the temple infuse the heart with confidence that it is the spot where Shri Krishna revealed himself. The place has held religious significance since the 6th century BC, and the main temple and other temples were destroyed multiple times throughout history, most recently by the foreign invaders in 1670. This temple was believed to be built about 5,000 years ago by Vajranabha, the great-grandson of Shri Krishna. It was reconstructed around 400 AD, during the reign of Chandragupta Vikramaditya. It was reportedly destroyed by the foreign invader 1017 AD. Raja Dhurpet Dev Janjua, the Emperor of Mathura, built the temple for the third time in 1150 AD, but it was reportedly demolished again in the 16th century by Sikandar Lodi, the Delhi Sultan. 125 years later, Raja Veer Singh Bundela restored it during the reign of Mughal Emperor Jahangir, but in 1669 AD, Aurangzeb reportedly demolished it once more.

As per a report from BBC<sup>[8]</sup>, On Tuesday 11 September 2001 suicide attackers seized US passenger jets and crashed them into two New York skyscrapers, killing thousands of people. Four planes flying over the eastern US were seized simultaneously by small teams of hijackers. They were then used as giant, guided missiles to crash into landmark buildings in New York and Washington. Two planes struck the Twin Towers of the World Trade Centre in New York. The first hit the North Tower at 08:46 Eastern Time (12:46 GMT). The second crashed into the South Tower at 09:03. The buildings were set on fire, trapping people on the upper floors, and wreathing the city in smoke. In less than two hours, both 110-storey towers collapsed in massive clouds of dust.

As per Britannica<sup>[9]</sup>, war between Israel and Palestinian militants, began on October 7, 2023, when Hamas launched a land, sea, and air assault on Israel from the Gaza Strip. The October 7 attack resulted in more than 1,200 deaths, primarily Israeli citizens, making it the deadliest day for Israel since its independence. More than 240 people were also taken hostage during the attack.

According to Vivek Gumaste<sup>[10]</sup> and Makkhan Lal<sup>[11]</sup>, the inscription on the Babri Masjid in Ayodhya proclaimed: "By the command of the Emperor Babur, whose justice is an edifice reaching up to the very height of the heavens, the good-hearted Mir Baqi built the alighting place of angels. Bawad [Buwad] khair baqi (may this goodness last forever)". The nadir of this era occurred in 1528, when Mir Baqi, a general in Babur's army, demolished an existing Prabhu Shri Ram temple in Ayodhya and erected a mosque in its stead.

This research paper delves into the astrological transit placements linked to significant events, such as the demolition of Prabhu Shri Ram's temple in Ayodhya, Uttar Pradesh, India, in 1528, alongside other notable temple demolitions in India and major global events resulting in significant human and economic losses. Through the examination of astrological configurations during these historical epochs, the paper seeks to unveil potential celestial influences on noteworthy occurrences. It elucidates the relationship between astrology and major historical events, drawing conclusions regarding the astrological factors contributing to the demolition of Prabhu Shri Ram's temple in Ayodhya in 1528.

Methods and Materials

Akkinapragada et al<sup>[12]</sup> have extensively examined different facets of the temple dedicated to Prabhu Shri Ram in Ayodhya. Their analysis includes a comprehensive evaluation of its strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats (SWOT) based on the temples consecration muhurat. Additionally, they delve into the potential future growth of the temple, considering the influence of various Yogas during the auspicious muhurat between 12:29:08 pm and 12:30:32 pm (lasting 84 seconds) on January 22nd, 2024, coinciding with the consecration ceremony of the temple. Refer to Fig-1 for the planetary positions at the muhurat time.

As per the findings of Akkinapragada et al<sup>[13]</sup>, an astrological analysis of historical records indicates that in the year 1528, when the Prabhu Shri Ram's Temple in Ayodhya was demolished, it was subject to Ketu's pratyantardasa within Rahu's antardasa, occurring within Mars's mahadasa. Excerpts from Akkinapragada et al<sup>[13]</sup>: "Standard lifespan for a human being is 120 years. Furthermore, the conversion factor stipulates that 360 human years equate to one divine year (Devatha year) as per Yajur Veda Mantra 3-62 and Surya Siddhanta, and the lifespan of a Devatha is derived as 120 * 360 human years = 43200 human years. As per Fig-1, Moon is on Mrigisira Star, meaning the Mahadasa will be of Mars's.

Further, 7 years of Mars mahadasa is scaled and extrapolated to 2520 years and Year 1528 when Prabhu Shri Ram's temple was demolished it was under Mars's mahadasa – Rahu antardasa – Ketu pratyantardasa".

These astrological configurations were associated with adverse effects such as "danger from enemies, danger from wounds, imprisonment, obstacles, loss of wealth, and loss of intelligence" on the Ayodhya temple dedicated to Prabhu Shri Ram.

In Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra<sup>[14]</sup>, Chapter 50 ("Effects of Chara etc. Dasas") on page 610 (see Fig-2), the following Slokas 51-52 are given.

चन्द्रशुक्रौ द्वादशे चन्द्राजकोपो भवेद्घ्नवम् ।
 भौमकेतू तत्र यदि षष्ठोऽग्नेर्महती व्यथा ॥५१॥
 चन्द्रशुक्रौ धने विप्र ! यदि राज्यं प्रयच्छतः ।
 दशारम्भे दशान्ते च द्वितीयस्थमिदं फलम् ॥५२॥

As per slokas in Fig-2, "The natural characteristics of the house occupied by Rahu are harmed at the commencement of the Dasa. If such house be 2nd, there will be loss of wealth. If the Moon and Venus be in the 12th there will be losses due to the displeasure of government. If Mars and Ketu be so disposed there will be death or danger from fire. There will be acquisition of kingdom if the Venus and Moon be in the 2nd at the commencement of the Dasa. This means that the effects (good or bad) of the house in which the Moon and Venus are posited at the commencement and end of Dasa, are strengthened. Thus their disposition in the 6th, the 8th and the 12th will produce only adverse effects”. Thus Pishacha Yoga is formed if Mars and Ketu are conjunct causing death or danger from fire situations.

From Akkinapragada et al <sup>[13]</sup> and the insights provided in Fig-2 above, it becomes evident that the planetary configurations align on the 1st of May in the year 1528, indicating a significant astrological influence suggestive of death and danger from fire for Prabhu Shri Ram’s temple in Ayodhya. For a detailed visualization of these alignments, please refer to Fig-3.

Given the planetary configurations resulting in Pishacha Yoga through the conjunction of Mars and Ketu as depicted in Fig-3, it becomes essential to pursue deeper analysis to pinpoint analogous astrological planetary alignments across various prominent temples in India and significant global events. Such extended inquiry aims to corroborate existing evidence, thereby enhancing our comprehension of potential astrological impacts on sacred locations and historical incidents. Presented below are several instances exhibiting conditions closely resembling those outlined in Fig-2 and Fig-3.

Results and Discussion: Upon examining Figure 2, it becomes apparent that the conjunction of Mars and Ketu indicates a potential peril of death or fire-related danger. Figures 3 to 20 showcase a range of significant temples and global events that have encountered destruction or confronted catastrophic circumstances. Building upon this insight, we will delve deeper into the analysis of planetary positions forming the Pishacha Yoga, as outlined in Table 1 below.

The implication is that the astrological configuration contributed to the rise of Hitler and subsequently influenced the outbreak of the global conflict as World War II.</li> </ul>

Conclusion

1. The conjunction of Mars and Ketu, commonly referred to as Pishacha Yoga, had a profound impact, causing substantial devastation to temples such as Somnath, Varanasi, Surya Marthanda, Hampi, and Sri Krishna Janmabhoomi during the respective years. It's noteworthy that the presence of a benefic planet in the 6th, 8th, or 12th house intensifies the scale of destruction triggered by the Pishacha Yoga.
2. When the Moon is positioned in the ascendant, alongside the formation of Pishacha Yoga (the conjunction of Mars and Ketu) in the 12th house, it exerts a significant influence, notably exacerbating the loss of human lives, as evidenced by the widespread casualties experienced during World War I.
3. The onset of World War II did not coincide precisely with the formation of Pishacha Yoga. Nonetheless, the potent influence of this astrological configuration became evident through the leadership of Adolf Hitler. It is notable that on the day he assumed leadership in Germany, Pishacha Yoga was indeed present, acting as a catalyst for the subsequent course of events that unfolded during World War II.
4. The combination of a Virgo ascendant along with the Moon in Gemini, further compounded by the formation of Pishacha Yoga, notably amplified the magnitude of devastation witnessed in tragic events like the 9/11 attacks in the USA and recent assaults in Israel.
5. Even though the formation of Pishacha Yoga (Mars with Ketu) was absent during the 26/11 Mumbai attacks, the presence of Kala Sarpa Dosha caused some destruction (brings hurdles, peace absence, health issues, job loss, poverty, tensions, betrayals, family quarrels, and less support.). However, it's crucial to acknowledge that the events still led to significant bloodshed and widespread anxiety.
6. These instances collectively emphasize the importance of comprehending the causal factors behind the demolition of Prabhu Shri Ram's temple in Ayodhya in the year 1528, primarily attributed to the formation of Pishacha Yoga.

7. This research serves as a robust foundation for delving deeper into our future investigations aimed at identifying major potentially perilous circumstances or impending events that may pose a threat to such prominent temples, countries, and mankind.
